valoriser la course et ce, sur tous territoires et tous supports. The registration of each competitor in the "PURU TRANSGASCOGNE" implies that his/her image and name, the image of his/her boat, those of his/her sponsors can be used by the AO and its partners to communicate and/or promote the race, in all territories and all media.

10/ RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE OA, ITS PARTNERS AND COMPETITORS

10.1. Competitors participate in the event at their own risk and responsibility for all matters. It is up to each competitor to judge, based on their knowledge, the equipment available to them, the strength of the wind, the weather forecast, etc., whether or not to start the event, to stop it or to continue it. See RRS Fundamental Rule 3, "Decision to Race".

The OA will not bear any liability in the event of material damage, injury or death in the context of the event, whether before, during or after the event. Any information that any member of the organization could provide before or during the event, such as for example a gale warning, constitutes one element among others on which the skipper can base his/her decision without this incurring the responsibility of the OA.

10.2. The responsibility of the OA and its partners is limited to ensure the fairness of the competition. Any other responsibility that the OA would accept should be only contractual and explicit.

Particularly :

- The checks performed by the OA, either from its own initiative or on request of the competitor or any other body, are aimed only to ensure that rules and race documents have been complied with.
- The watch and especially radio watch, the monitoring with the trackers that the OA may organize and perform, are to be considered by the skipper as hazardous and not compulsory, and in no way as an additional security on which they can rely.
- Any request made to a member of the OA will not imply any civilian liability except if the OA explicitly accepted this responsibility, either itself either for one of its officers, officially accredited on that effect. This is in particular the case for diverse requests for help, including at-sea assistance.

10.3. The event is a sporting event. Any sporting dispute shall be judged in accordance with the RRS. Submitting an entry implies that the competitor and his/her beneficiaries waive any jurisdiction other than sporting for sporting disputes. No claim for damages can be founded (RRS fundamental rule no. 4).

10.4. Whatever would be the judicial links between the skipper and the boat owner(s), only the skipper officially identified on the entry form will be the person in charge responsible towards the OA.

They are due to subscribe all insurances necessary to cover these risks and responsibilities.

The absence of a third-party liability would not transfer any responsibility to the OA or its partners.

10.6. As an essential requirement to enter the race, the skipper shall provide the OA with the waiver form duly signed, through which he/(she renounces to any resort against the OA, its mandated agents and its insurers, as worded in the appendix.

10.7. A competitor cannot require the organization to organize a rescue operation from shore. Rescue and assistance at sea are governed by international conventions in force.

10.8. Competitors are reminded that fundamental RRS n°1.1 requires any boat to provide all possible assistance to any other vessel or person in danger, when it is in a position to do so.

10.9. Each boat shall embark a tracker. This tracker shall be provided by the OA and shall be fixed at the start of the boat before the start in Port-Bourgenay.
